FIRM NAME PARTNER OF HAYES-SOLOWAY LAW FIRM DECEASED

Oliver Wolcott “Pat” Hayes, 92, firm name partner of Hayes Soloway, P.C., an intellectual property boutique with offices in Tucson, Arizona and Manchester, New Hampshire, died November 29, 2007, from complications following surgery. He had been practicing in the patent profession for more than 60 years and had vast experience in patent prosecution, litigation and licensing. In addition, he counseled clients and rendered formal opinions concerning the infringement/noninfringement of patents, the validity/invalidity of patents and the designing of products and processes to avoid potential patent infringement.

Mr. Hayes obtained his B.S.E. degree in physics and electrical engineering from Brown University and his J.D. from George Washington University Law School. He was a member of the Bar of the District of Columbia and the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and was registered to practice before the United States Patent and Trademark Office.

He was a U.S. Navy veteran of World War II, and later worked briefly at MIT, then joined Polaroid as counsel to Dr. Edwin Land. He was Chief Patent Counsel for National Research Laboratories and Chief Patent Counsel for the Norton Company. In the late 1970s, he joined the law practice of Nick Soloway, Esq., in Manchester, New Hampshire and the firm name became Hayes Soloway, P.C.

Mr. Hayes is a past president of the Boston Patent Law Association, past president of The Association of Corporate Patent Counsel, a member of the Advisory Council of the PCT Research Foundation, and served as a judge in moot court competitions at the Franklin Pierce Law Center.

Hayes Soloway, P.C., is an intellectual property boutique firm, with offices located in Tucson, Arizona and Manchester, New Hampshire and an affiliate office in Phoenix, Arizona. Their attorneys have strong engineering, scientific, and litigation backgrounds and serve a domestic and international client base that includes Fortune 100 companies and industry leaders in aerospace, biotechnology, pharmaceuticals, chemical technologies, mechanical and electromechanical technologies and micro electronics.

The Tucson office is located at 3450 E. Sunrise Drive, Suite 140, Tucson, Arizona 85718, telephone: 520-882-7623 and the New Hampshire office is located at 175 Canal Street, Manchester, New Hampshire, 03101, telephone: 603-668-1400.
